

Derek Penslar, Samuel Zacks Professor of Jewish History and Director of the Jewish Studies Program at University of Toronto, spoke on “When May We Kill our Brethren? Jews at War in Europe, 1848-1918” on Nov. 5, 2007, at the Mershon Center for International Security Studies.

Penslar’s talk, which attracted about 40 people, was co-sponsored by the Melton Center for Jewish Studies.